

The MAI's Allocations

Conditions

All participants in the MAI's Alliance program benefit from a special allocation. Of varying values, these allocations cover the services requested by the artist in their application and budget in order to see their project through.

The MAI's allocations are centered on learning, mentorship and collaborations. They serve to cover the cost of activities and services that will enable the applicant to acquire new knowledge and skills, advance their artistic practice and overcome obstacles to their full participation in the arts.

General program: allocations of $8,000

Punctual supports: allocations of $2,000

Joint supports: please consult the specific artist guide to know the allocation

The range of activities and services that the MAI's allocations can cover is very broad, but some restrictions apply.

- Candidates are welcome to propose activities and services not included in this general list, as long as they stand to remove barriers to their equal participation in the arts.
